Dedication

"It was here at Hyannis that he loved to sail, swim, and ramble with Jackie, Caroline, and John-John."

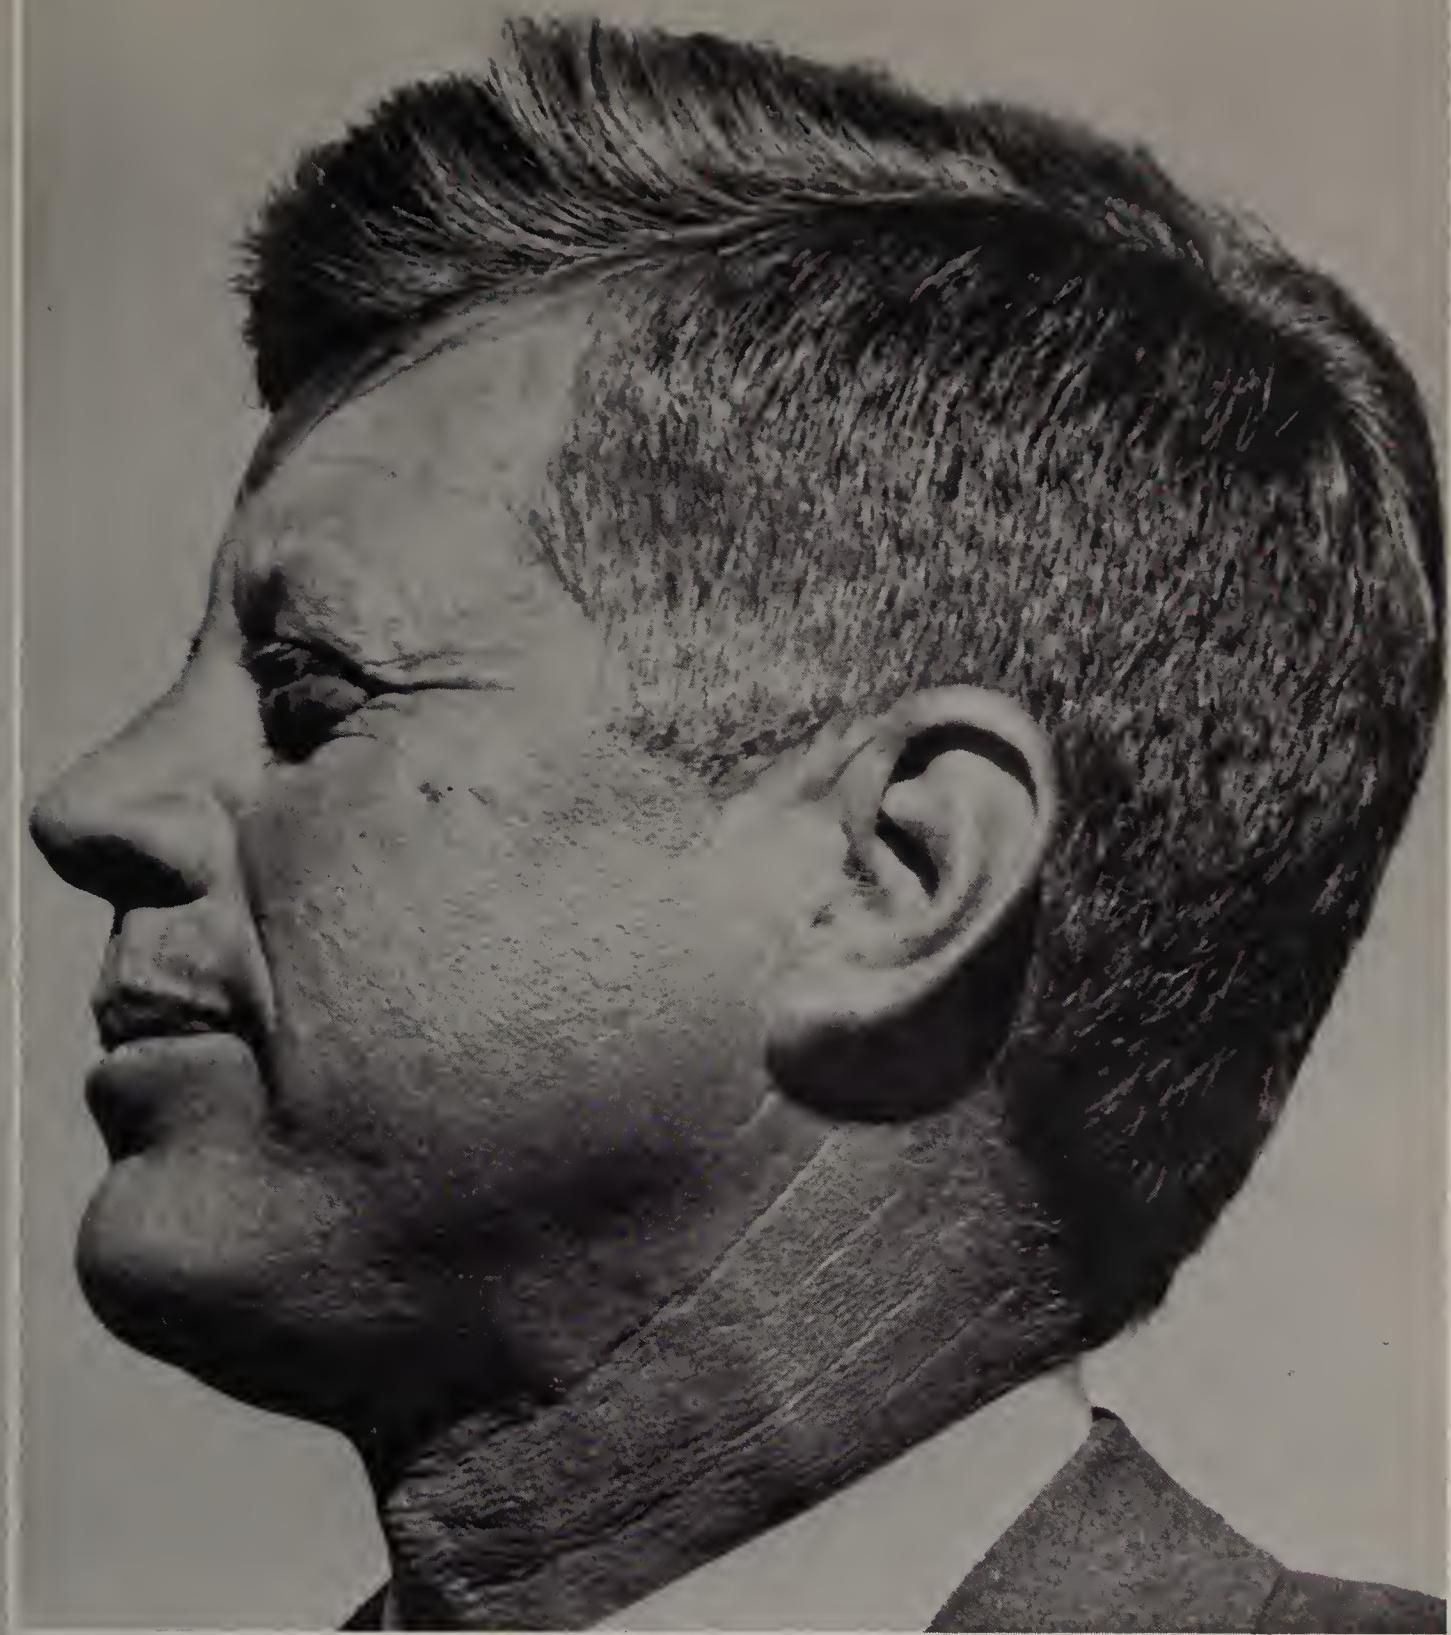

The Class of 1964 humbly and respectfully dedicates this HUTTLESTONIAN to the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy, who lost his life in the service of his country. With relentless efforts he strove to fortify freedom and to attain world peace; with strength and understanding he laid the foundation for a new era.

The total impact of President Kennedy's personality on the nation was great. He was the epitome of what America stands for—style, vigor, curiosity, intellectual pursuits, and strength; qualities which are necessary to keep a nation from becoming decadent.

Let President Kennedy be forever remembered as one who loved the forgotten, the downtrodden, the aged, and the outcast. His life was dedicated to helping them strive for equality, regardless of race, creed, or color. Now we as young adults must carry out the fine goals he set for himself and the nation.

"Before my term has ended, we shall have tested anew whether a nation organized and governed such as ours can endure. The outcome is by no means certain. The answers are by no means clear."

“Profile in Courage”

“If each of us could have the conviction and courage to take upon ourselves a fraction of the burdens that he was willing to bear while alive, perhaps—in time to come—the disgrace of his murder might seem less overpowering and the purpose of his life realized.”

—ELLEN JO PRESS

Principal's Message

"The whole life of man is but a point of time, let us enjoy it, therefore, while it lasts and not spend it to no purpose."

"On the Education of Children"—Plutarch

Almost two thousand years ago the Greek philosopher, Plutarch, reminded parents that the span of a man's life was but a brief moment when measured against the agelessness of time. He admonished them to teach their children to act with a purpose so that they might enjoy what life had to offer. A philosopher living two thousand years before Plutarch might well have said the same thing. The brevity of life was as inescapable then as it is today and as it will be tomorrow.

It is not illogical to associate education and time with life. In fact, if we pause and reflect we realize that our education has come about only because there was time for it. If we have had a purpose, then surely time has brought some enjoyment to us. It may be the simple pleasure of knowing someone with whom we share a common interest, or it may be the warmth of satisfaction that comes from solving a difficult problem. Whatever it is, time in its passing has borne it.

As we go through our daily cycle from dawn to dawn, it may seem that what we do has little significance for us or the world. Yet, even the least event has a meaning although we may not grasp it until time has added its dimension. So it is with the affairs of men. Time becomes the window through which we see the past. This past of yesterday we cannot govern, but the past of tomorrow is ours to shape as we will. As we wish, time can reveal a life that bears our mark for good.

To you, Class of 1964, I commend this thought of Plutarch. Lay hold on a purpose so that life may bring you the joy of something well done. Remember, time alone will measure the worth of what you do today.

In Appreciation

We would like to thank our class advisors for successfully guiding us through four formative years of high school. For their selfless efforts in aiding and supervising our class projects and dances, we express our deepest gratitude and appreciation.

Foreword

The Yearbook of the Class of 1964 . . .

What is a yearbook . . . but a fragment of Time . . .

Captured in essence . . . crystalized . . .

The intangible translated into a tangible form . . .

To be kept . . . chuckled over . . . dreamed over . . . sighed over . . .

To go with us . . . this fragment of Time . . . into the Future . . .

To help our dreams stay real . . . our loyalties endure . . .

Our goals remain clear and unadulterated . . .

Our friendship warm.

To others . . . these years were perhaps part of childhood's pearly landscape

Part of young married years . . . middle or old age . . .

But for us . . . the Class of 1964 . . .

They were our years at Fairhaven High . . .

Years that gave us the power to live fully . . .

To serve in our chosen vocation . . .

To enjoy life with a deep full relish . . .

These were the years that led us to the threshold of life . . .

Our Administrators Are

MR. CHARLES C. ENTWISTLE

Mr. Entwistle, our principal, has successfully guided us through four years at Fairhaven High School. He received a Bachelor of Science and a Master's Degree in Science from the University of Massachusetts. Presently, he is doing advanced work at Boston University. Mr. Entwistle enjoys reading Civil War histories, making home improvements, and gardening.

Everyday Mr. Entwistle deals with student problems, supervises school activities, and maintains discipline with a fitting blend of authority and understanding.

Mrs. Bruce, our guidance director, is always available when students in the College Course need help or advice. She received a Bachelor of Science and a Master's Degree in Education from Bridgewater State College and Boston University. Her favorite pastimes are reading, cooking, and out-of-doors activities.

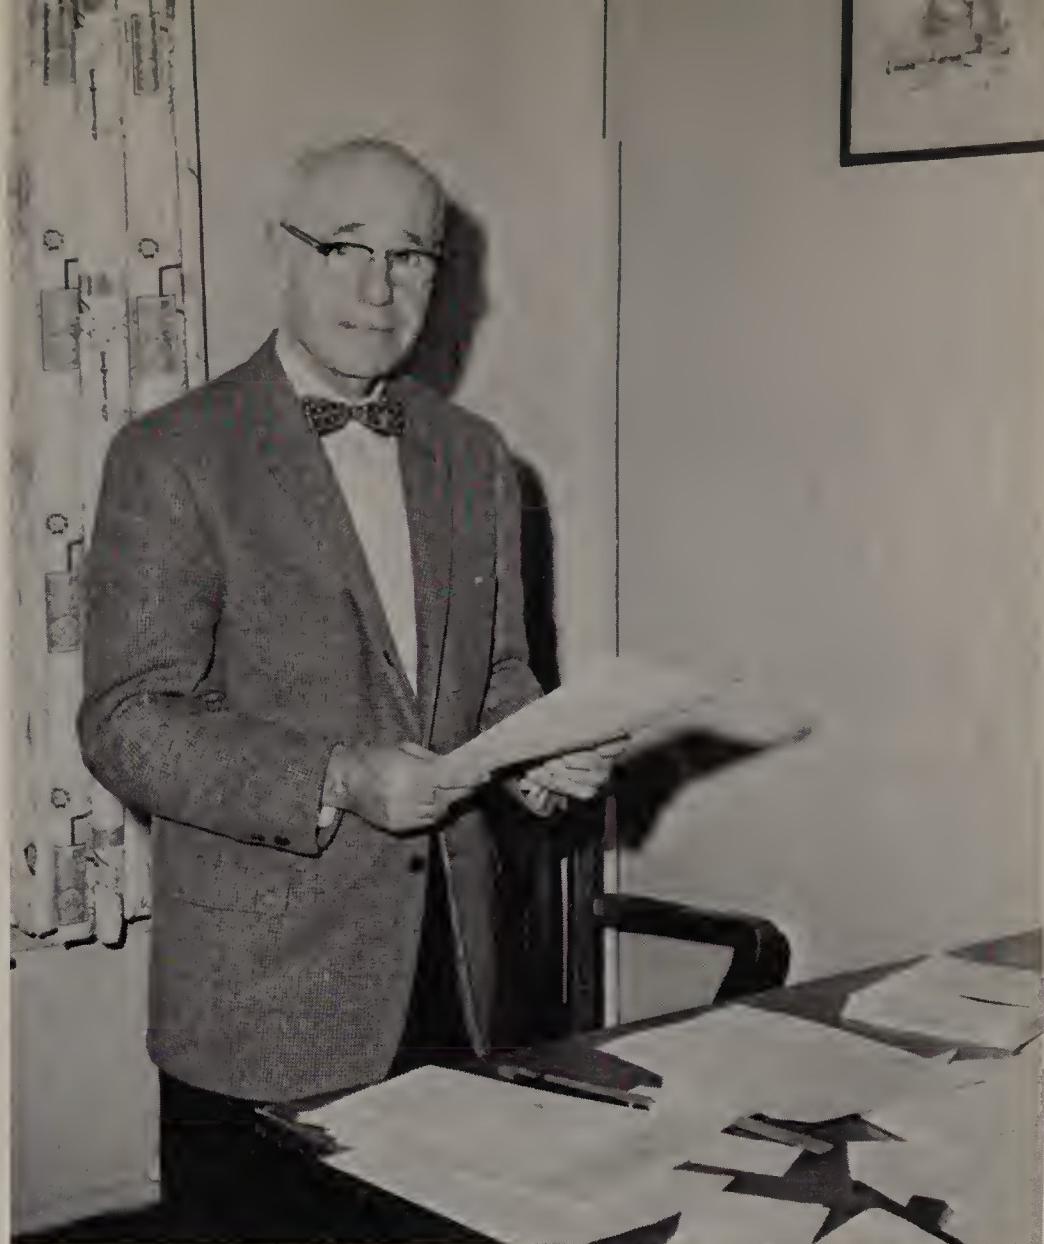

Mrs. Bruce's valuable advice has helped many of us decide our future careers.

MRS. DORIS BRUCE

Progressive

Mr. Bither, who has been at Fairhaven High School for two years, is our vice-principal and disciplinarian. He is an alumnus of Boston University and Clark University; he holds a Bachelor of Arts and a Master's Degree in Education. Before coming to Fairhaven, Mr. Bither taught in Wareham and New York State. Among his favorite hobbies are skiing, fishing, swimming, and reading.

MR. WALLACE BITHER

Mr. Albritton is the guidance director for the General and Business Course students. Originally from Junction City, Arkansas, he graduated from Southern State College. Among his many interests are photography and sports.

Mr. Albritton has successfully co-directed two Christmas plays and has directed our Senior Play. We all appreciate his cooperation and friendliness.

MR. CARLTON C. ALBRITTON

A Vote of Thanks to Our Faculty

We, the Class of 1964, have come to the end of our high school career. Our class was not the first, nor will it be the last to profit by your teaching abilities. We are deeply thankful for the fine example and outstanding instruction you have given us. You have helped us through four very important years in our lives—formative years which will deeply affect our futures. You have instilled in us the desire to learn, to achieve, and to strive for higher goals. We sincerely hope that we shall live up to your expectations, that you might be proud of the role you have played in providing us with an excellent education. For your innumerable efforts and services performed in our behalf, we extend to you our unending gratitude and sincere appreciation.

Mathematics is the foundation of life in our complicated and industrialized world of today. Without this valuable tool we would still be living in caves. Ever since man first started counting on his fingers, mathematics has played an ever increasing role in his life. Today, mathematics is so ingrained in the life of every American that one could not imagine life without it. Mathematics helps feed us, clothe us, keep us warm, create adequate transportation, and bring health and security to all Americans. We should all realize the importance of mathematics in our lives, and we should support the men who teach this wonderful subject and those who use it to our advantage.

Today's modern civilization is the result of many years of scientific advance. Breakthroughs, such as man's first venture into space, occur only as a result of organized research. We are greatly dependent on science, as it provides us with the means for maintaining society as we know it. Preparation in laboratory sciences gives students an opportunity to aid in the future maintenance and bettering of our high standards of living. Men of science deserve much gratitude for the invaluable services they render to us.

“Time does not become sacred to us until we have lived it, until it has passed over us and taken with it a part of ourselves.”

Class History

In September of 1960 a new Freshman class entered Fairhaven High School. It was a class to be remembered for a long time to come because it was our class—the Class of 1964. We were all looking forward to an auspicious career as high school students. We chose our first class officers with great care because we realized that they were to be our representatives. Jane Delano, Edward Locke, David Roberts, and Holly Dixon took the positions of President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer respectively. Our Executive Board members were Kathy Medeiros, Penny Baker, Carlos Ribeiro, Raymond Rose, and David Baker. We were introduced to our class advisors, Mr. Albritton, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Brasor, and Mr. Arieta. They were to guide us throughout the four years of high school, assisting with our class projects and dances. In our Freshman year we sold Christmas fruit cakes.

Our Sophomore year was filled with anticipation. We were no longer the newest class in the school, and we were soon to be upperclassmen. Our class officers were Jane Delano, President; Edward Locke, Vice-President; Holly Dixon, Secretary; and Peter Renfree, Treasurer. Our Executive Board was comprised of Steve Bouley, Patricia Lamarre, Sheila Morgan, Linda Risdal, and Bernard Labbe. Our class project for the Sophomore year was in alliance with our town's Sesqui-centennial. We sold commemorative stationery printed with scenes of the town. Our class officers officiated in designing our new class rings.

Our Junior year approached us swiftly. We were finally upperclassmen, and our ideals and desires were definitely being conceived. Our class officers were once again elected: Jane Delano, President; Steve Bouley, Vice-President; Michael Henriques, Secretary; and Edward Locke, Treasurer. Our Executive Board members were Sheila Morgan, Bernard Labbe, Anne Gardella, Linda Risdal, and Peter Renfree. We received our class rings early in the year and were very pleased with them. We continued selling stationery as our class project because it had been so successful in the previous year. Our Junior Prom was held on May 3 in the Larch Avenue Auditorium. The theme was "Springtime in the Alps." The dance was a very big success, and the ultimate moment of the evening was reached when the Queen and her court were announced. Jane Delano was our radiant Queen and Sheila Morgan her lovely lady-in-waiting. The Queen's court was comprised of Holly Dixon, Linda Risdal, Louise Wojcik, Susan Partington, Georgia Daignault, Jane Moss, and Kathy Medeiros. Late in the year, three of our classmates were chosen to be cheerleaders. They were Louise Wojcik, Holly Dixon, and Marilyn Green. Junior Day was perhaps the biggest day of the year. It was then that we were elevated to the position of Seniors. We became the leaders of the school and representatives of our town's fine youth.

Our Senior year opened on a happy note. Our class officers were elected: Jane Delano, President; Joseph Amaral, Vice-President; Holly Dixon, Secretary; and Edward Hartigan, Treasurer. The Executive Board was comprised of Jane Moss, Linda Risdal, Louise Wojcik, Carlos Ribeiro, and Shirley Medeiros.

In November we were all shocked to hear of the assassination of our President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy. We all felt a deep personal regret at his loss, but we were soon to realize how strong our ideals had become because of it. We realized the responsibilities we had facing us, and we were all determined to fulfill them.

Our Senior Play, "One Horrible Night," was held on March 20. Its success was very rewarding to everyone. The annual Senior Banquet took place at the New Bedford Hotel. One of the biggest events of the year was our Senior Prom, held in the Gold Room of the New Bedford Hotel. At the solemn Commencement Exercises on June 10, we realized that our high school career had come to an end. Time had made the Class of 1964 history.

Class Officers

The Class of 1964 can be very grateful for the fine job the class officers and executive board have done in handling our class throughout the past year. In addition to arranging class projects, the officers made preparations for the Senior Prom and many other Senior functions. The fine qualities of leadership and responsibility that our officers have exemplified will always be remembered in the years which follow.

MARTHA DE FRIAS leaves Mrs. Hemmingway's office to Linda Silva.

SANDRA INGRAM leaves her parking space at West Island open for grabs.

BILLY DUFFY refuses to leave Peggy Bouley.

LINDA RISDAL leaves her bottle of peroxide to Cindy Axtell.

KATHIE MEDEIROS leaves her funny-looking basketball sneakers to Bev Pimental. Good Luck!!!

JOHNNY WOJCIK leaves his "mile" sneakers to Alan Patenaude, who, we hope, will put them to good use.

CHARLES KOZUCH leaves his observation post in front of the main office to any underclassmen who can dodge Mr. Albritton.

JOE AMARAL leaves his gas tank to any Junior who enjoys traveling out to the farm.

THE HUTTLESTONIAN STAFF leaves the beloved intimacy of the "HUTT" to the next HUTTLESTONIAN STAFF.

SHEILA MORGAN leaves the rubber stamp marked "Job No. 06195" to any Junior with a clean face.

ROCKY and JANICE leave the office all to Peggy.

THE FRENCH IV CLASS leaves to Mr. Dufour, with love, a pencil and paper so that he can write down his memories of them.

JANE MOSS leaves her poems to any Junior who can't stand chemistry class.

ARLENE LANGLOIS leaves her shorthand notes to any future Senior who thinks she is an expert in transcription.

GERRIE DUMONT leaves her chewy-chewing gum to a future Senior with tireless "jaws."

ROBERT FARIA leaves Mr. Carter to any Junior who is lucky enough to get him.

NANCY COPELAND leaves her head of her lunch table to a future senior who likes food on her blouse.

Given in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred sixty-four, we do hereby proclaim this last will and testament, and hereby appoint Mr. Kummer executor.

Class Prophecy

Our town of Fairhaven is really bustling in preparation for the dedication of the Fort Phoenix Space Terminal. Many former residents are returning from all over the world to witness this celebration, making Fort Phoenix a sister base to Cape Kennedy.

The Welcoming Committee, headed by Patricia Lamarre and Jane Moss, was on hand to greet Bernard Labbe and Cathy Wershay who arrived from Washington, D.C., having been put in charge of protocol. Their office has been set up at the New Fairhaven Hotel, operated by Lawrence Patasini, who incidentally is still sporting his black-and-white saddle shoes.

The local chairman, attorneys, Jane Delano and Edward Locke, have made plans to provide facilities for the 1,000,000 visitors expected.

Admiral Peter Renfree of the U.S. Navy reports that he will have his entire fleet at the Fairhaven Harbor, and Captain Michael Henriques of the U.S. Air Force is preparing to have his squadron piloted by former Fairhavenites Fred Cushing, Joseph Perry, Armand Boulanger, Lynn Jason, Roger Surprenant, Frank Langiano, Gary Edwards, and Tom Cabral participate in the dedication.

Firechief Joseph Amaral has his crew Butch Ferland, Sonny Avila, and Ed Hartigan preparing for all emergencies. Susan York and Sheila Morgan, assistant directors of medical care, have added to their staff: Veterinarian, Helen Vincent; Lab-technician, Linda Risdal; and Physical Therapist, Leslye Shurtleff.

Earlier today disc-jockey Jim Madruga announced that Gordon Bennett, U.S. Ambassador to France; Franz Eberhard, Austrian Diplomat; Rod Corson, overseas representative of American cars; and Lisa Wright, Peace Corps Administrator have arrived at the Fairhaven Airport to join in the festivities.

Bonnie Gifford, assistant editor of the Fairhaven Times, has Janice Fletcher, international interpreter, preparing the elaborate program of entertainment. Heading the list of the many celebrities are the "Space Bugs;" Tim Cunningham, Sig Haines, and Steve Blodgett; renowned violinists, Carolyn Costa and Betty Furtado; famed pianist, Carol-Ann Hesketh; comedian, Steve Bouley; and popular singer, Laverne Texeira.

The Fairhaven Country Club, operated by Walter Harrison and managed by William Duffy, has added to their personnel Louise Wojcik, Sue Partington, Georgia Daignault, and LaLoni Leisey as social directors, and Lee Twarog as receptionist to aid in the influx of additional business.

The original plans of the interplanetary stop-off were engineered by Professors of Mathematics, JoAnn McKinney and Edward Lefkowitz in collaboration with artist Penny Baker. All are instrumentally responsible for the world-wide attention our town is receiving.

This is bound to be an eventful and history-making day. See you all at the Take-off!

American Field Service

FRANZ EBERHARD

The American Field Service is an organization designed to open wide the doors of increased understanding among nations. Fairhaven High School was especially lucky this year to have Franz Eberhard of St. Stefan, Austria, as its AFS representative.

Fran, as he was called by his friends, was a delightful addition to the student body. He was extremely successful academically and displayed his musical abilities by playing with the band. He stayed with the Charles Faria family and attended school with his American brother, Charlie.

Fran greatly enjoyed his stay in the United States. He plans to attend the University of Vienna and become a diplomat. All of Fran's American friends hope that his ambition is realized so that one day he may again return to Fairhaven.

Fran often participated in arranging AFS activities. Here, he and Ray Rose discuss the AFS Hootenanny.

The Grand March.

"Springtime in the Alps"

The evening of May 3 was one of the most enchanting of our Junior year. The auditorium had been beautifully decorated with colorful flowers, streamers, and Swiss yodelers.

We greeted our patrons and patronesses and then waltzed to the delightful music of Ray Besse's orchestra.

Jane Delano was crowned Queen by Linda Martin, last year's Queen, amidst a lovely stage of butterflies, trees, and flowers. The Queen's gracious court consisted of Sheila Morgan, lady-in-waiting, accompanied by Linda Risdal, Louise Wojcik, Georgia Daignault, Susan Partington, Kathy Medeiros, Jane Moss, and Holly Dixon. Following the coronation, the dancers participated in a grand march led by Steve Bouley and his lovely date.

Our Junior Prom ended in reality that May night, but it will always remain as one of our fondest memories.

Jane beams happily at last year's Queen, Linda Martin.

Underclassmen

"Dost thou love life, then do not squander Time, for that is the stuff life is made of."

Freshman Class

"Well, now that we're in—where do we go?"

In September their faces showed confusion and bewilderment. For many, going from a fairly small junior high, probably was quite confusing. As the year rapidly progressed, the Freshmen had become accustomed to Fairhaven High School's procedures.

Following the election of class officers and executive board a class project was selected. This project of selling magazines went over quite well with the class. This project and school activities have made the Freshmen feel a part of the school.

The "best sellers" in the Freshman Class were not "Look" or "Life" but Sigurd Johannessen and Cathy Holmes.

As Freshmen we must start our climb to higher education from the bottom.

EXECUTIVE BOARD: Warren Livesley, Beverly Collins, Thomas Carvalho, Donna Howard, and Henry Bernier.

Sophomore Class

Our Class Officers are: Sandy Morris, JoAnn Kidd, Suellen Aiken, Joyce Isherwood.

Watching the birdie are the members of our Executive Board. They are: Ann DeLano, Patrick Lang, Kathy Foley, David McCombe, and Peggy Bouley.

We finished our Freshman year at Fairhaven High and returned last fall as Sophomores—"wise fools." The Class of '66 entered school once again, anticipating new experiences and seeking new knowledge. There were times when we despaired—during the traditional Sophomore slump, when vacations weren't long enough, when biology tests were too hard,—but we made it! We have had many good times too, as the "in between" class. Now, as we look back, we see that our Sophomore year has actually flown by. As time goes onward however, so we do. We will start our first year as upperclassmen with mixed feelings, but the greatest of these will be hope for the future.

"We couldn't sell them so we ate them!" The top Sophomore candy salesmen are: David McCombe, Susan Nicholson, and Nancy Ruest.

Sophomores have diversified . . .

. . . extracurricular activities?!?!

Junior Class

OUR CLASS OFFICERS: Judith Almeida, Secretary; Allan Patenaude, Treasurer; Ray Fonseca, President; and Wayne Lodge, Vice-President.

I think all the Juniors will agree that this year was the best we've had. We didn't have as many responsibilities as Seniors, yet we were still upperclassmen. One of the first high points of our year was obtaining our class rings. Then, and only then, we were genuine upperclassmen.

We buckled right down to work and came up with a good class project, selling fruitcakes. Our success in this venture can be explained by a fine class spirit and the great amount of help we received from Mr. Silva, our class advisor.

Too soon, our Junior year came to a close. The night of our Junior Prom, "Evening in Paris," will linger as one of the best memories of our High School days. Junior Day brought tears to our eyes as we received the class mantle; we were now Seniors.

OUR EXECUTIVE BOARD:
Toni Rego, Polly Ann Harrison, Scott Morris, Janet Pacheco and Joan Laverdiere.

This is one of the students who made our class project such a big success. Rosemary Roderick, our top salesman, shows how she got rid of one hundred and seventy-five fruit cakes. They were good weren't they?

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."
Kitty Larkin, Cindy Bastein, and Bob Aguiar admire the class rings of Sandy Almeida and Robert Jones.

The Fairhaven High School Chapter of the National Honor Society is the ultimate goal of students with outstanding scholastic achievement. As a member of the Honor Society, a student must be willing to uphold its four ideals; scholarship, leadership, character, and service. During March of each year, Juniors and Seniors who have attained these four goals are initiated into the Honor Society.

Traffic Squad

"There is order in everything that is good." The Traffic Squad is one part of an intricate system designed to maintain peace and order in our school. Under the capable supervision of Mr. Bither, monitors are stationed at all strategic points in the halls and locker rooms. They are expected to supervise student traffic in a friendly but firm manner.

Officers: SEATED: Shirley Medeiros, Linda Bissonnette, Jane Delano. STANDING: Steven Desroches, Bruce Cordeiro, Paul Cardoza, Raymond Rose.

French Clubs

"Bonjour, mon ami. Comment allez-vous?"
"Très bien, merci, et vous?"

Conversations such as this are held among the members of French Clubs A and B. Mr. Dufour, the clubs' advisor, sights the purposes of the groups as communicating "en français" and acquainting the members with French customs and ideals. The clubs enjoy French movies and participate in various activities. In addition, they give awards to the most able and deserving French students.

French Club A Officers: Steven Entin,
Barbara Acksen, John German, Sheila Morgan.

French Club B Officers: Jane Hiller,
Joseph Amaral, Holly Maxfield.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, under the tutelage of Mr. Baldassarre, meets to learn more about the customs and languages of the Spanish people. In order to promote better understanding of the language, the meetings are conducted as much as possible in Spanish. This year, the members have been making an interesting study of Spanish music.

Officers: Carlos Ribeiro, Walter Jachna, Eileen Cooper, Michael Brazil.

Homemaking Clubs

Homemaking Club A Officers: Susan Wesolowski, Laverne Texeira, Diane Lopes.

Homemaking Club B Officers: Linda Alves, Nancy Potkay, Joyce McIlmurray, Kathleen Gula.

Business Club Officers and Executive Board.

Business Club

The Business Club, now in its second year, is open to any student in the Business Course or to anyone interested in the field of business. At each monthly meeting the students try to engage a speaker, either from a business school or a business organization.

Every year, the Business Club, under the direction of Mrs. Noyer, sponsors a candy sale. The profits are used to provide a substantial scholarship for a deserving business student who plans to further his career.

Art Club

Officers of the Art Club: Bruce Silva, Elaine Silva, Carolyn Marques, Richard Karvonen.

The Art Club is composed of students who meet to supplement their class assignments through advanced and experimental work. During the past years, the Art Club has increased so in size that it has become necessary to divide it into three groups.

The Art Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Mandell, strives to serve the school and community. The members gain a knowledge and an appreciation of art.

Library Club

"To read good books is to enjoy life's greatest treasures."

One of the more active clubs at Fairhaven High School is the Library Club, supervised by Miss Pillsbury. The prime purpose of the club is to foster interest in the library and to improve its facilities. Among the club's more recent projects are a book fair, a tea for the teachers, and a donation of a book to the Wood Memorial Bookshelf.

Library Club Officers: Virginia Gilley, Margaret Bassett, Stephen Green, David McCombe.

Audio-Visual Club

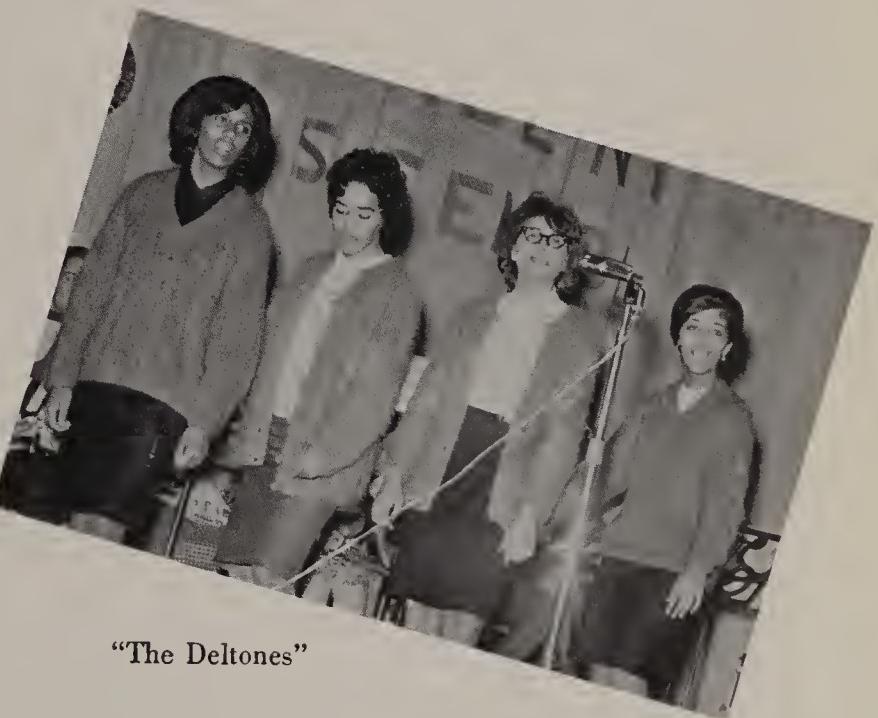

The Audio-Visual Club, under the guidance of Mr. Foley, is a service organization. Its members are in charge of the projection of the films used in the school and are responsible for the repair and general upkeep of the equipment used. The club offers an opportunity to serve the school.

Dramatic Society

The Dramatic Society at Fairhaven High School is a relatively new organization, and it has come to be one of the most popular. Under the direction of Mrs. Iona Kunz and Mr. Carlton Albritton, the society presents a play at each Christmas assembly. In the past few years, "A Christmas Carol," "The Christmas Oboe," "Letty's Christmas Prodigal" have been presented. Rehearsals start in November and continue until the day of the play. During the Christmas vacation, it has been customary for the cast to have a party at Mrs. Kunz's house, yet this is only a portion of the fun and rewards that the group has gained from this activity.

Dance Band

Band

The band, directed by Mr. Balandyk, is comprised of two main parts, marching and concert. The main duty of the marching band is to play for the football games and, upon occasion, for Tech Tournaments. Both sections take part in the Pops Concert and in the Auditions Festival.

The majorettes are part of the marching band. These girls lead the band at all its football games and perform at the football pep rallies.

Majorettes

Orchestra

"Adagio and Allegro" and themes from "The Sound of Music"—show tunes and classical songs played by the Fairhaven High School orchestra are well-received by appreciative audiences at the many school functions. The orchestra is conducted by Mr. Leo Balandyk. They practice diligently to prepare for assemblies, plays, concerts, and the all-important Southeastern Auditions Festival.

The string ensemble is a chamber group consisting of violas, violins, cellos, basses, and piano. It is under the direction of Mrs. Blanche Moreau. The ensemble performs twice a year, once at the Oxford School and once at the May Festival.

Many members of the orchestra and various vocal groups have had the opportunity to attend the District Concert at which they are a great credit to our school.

String Ensemble

Girls' Glee Club

Vocalaires

Mixed Chorus

The Vocalaires, under the direction of Mrs. Hemingway, consists of a group of girls who were in the Choraliers at the Junior High School. Throughout the years, members of this group have performed in the Southeastern Massachusetts Music Festival, and the entire group has performed at the annual Choral Concert.

The students of the two vocal music classes comprise the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club. Soloists for school performances are chosen from these groups. The Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club perform on Junior Day and at the Choral Concert.

Future Nurses' Club

"Society has provided a variety of health agencies which function to protect and promote man's life." Nursing is one of these agencies. With the capable assistance of Mrs. Dennie, R. N., and Mrs. Keith, R. N., the girls of the Future Nurses' Club meet to analyze their future responsibilities and services and to discuss the satisfaction and rewards they will encounter in the field of nursing. There is always a great need for nurses, and the Future Nurses' Club has fostered an interest in this profession for many of the students.

Officers of the Future Nurses' Club: Shirley Medeiros, Leslie Litchfield, Kitty Larkin, Cynthia Desjeunes.

Future Teachers' Club

The Mary A. Sale branch of the Future Teachers' Club is one of the oldest organizations at Fairhaven High School. The purposes of the club are to arouse interest in teaching, to demonstrate various techniques, and to serve the school and community. This year the club has been directed by Mrs. Lima. The club awards a scholarship to a member of the Future Teachers' Club.

Officers of the Future Teachers' Club: Steve Bouley, Gary Edwards, Susan Partington, Janet Pacheco.

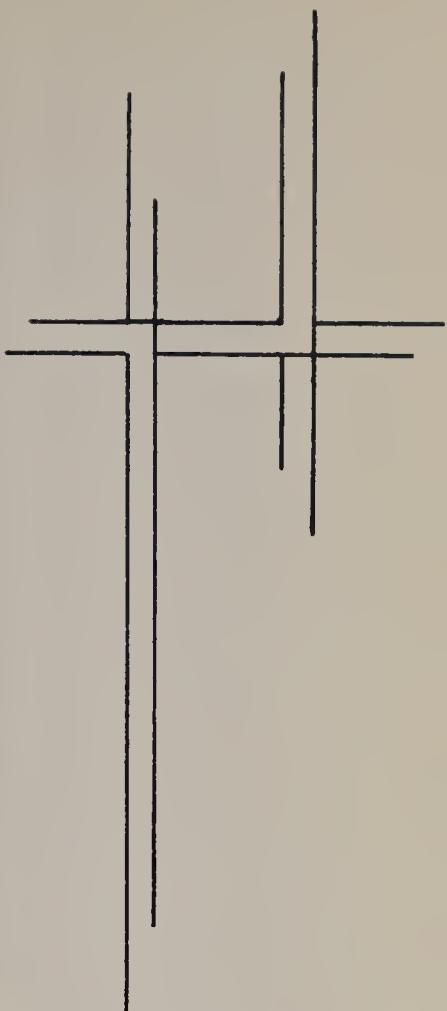

Chess Club

One of the newest clubs at Fairhaven High School is the Chess Club. Mr. Trainor is the faculty advisor of this activity which was organized last fall. The purpose of the Chess Club is to improve and develop the ability of its members to play the game of chess.

Chess Club Officers: Nobert Dlugosinski, Wayne Costa.

Model-Building Club

The newly-formed Model-Building Club is under the direction of Mr. Briggs. It is a club for those who are interested primarily in model-building — ships, airplanes, and cars. The aim of the Model-Building Club is to develop skills and to further interests in model-building.

Officers of the Model-Building Club: William Hinkley, Christopher Allen.

Cheerleaders

Each member of the FAIRHAVEN High School cheerleading squad is a representative of several hundred students; she must possess the following qualities:

F inesse
A ttractiveness
I ngenuity
R adiance
H onor
A lacrity
V irtue

Officers and Executive Board:
Edward Locke, Wayne Lodge,
Fred Cushing, Lawrence Patasini, John Wojcik.

Key Club

The Key Club of Fairhaven High School is a non-profit organization dedicated to bettering the welfare of the school. It is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of New Bedford and is a member of the Key Club International. Mr. Joseph Taffe, Jr. is the faculty advisor, and Mr. Sydney Beserosky is the Kiwanis advisor.

Its aims are threefold: first, to train young men to become leaders in the world of tomorrow; second, to serve the high school and the parent organization, the Kiwanis Club; and third, to serve our community. The Key Club should be recognized for the great efforts it has made in retaining the high standards and morals characteristic of our high school.

Student Council

The Student Council, advised by Mrs. Bruce, has led a very active year. Some of the Council's projects were to sponsor an American Field Service tea, to send a Christmas food basket to a needy family, to rewrite the Dress Code, and to care for the school grounds. These are only a few of the projects that have highlighted an extremely successful year.

Just as important as its projects is the prestige that the Council holds among the students. The Student Council has helped build good school spirit and has encouraged a better behaved student body.

Student Council Officers: Jane Delano, Ray Fonseca, Janet Pacheco.

"The Spray"
Editorial
Staff

"The Spray"

The school newspaper is one of the most important commodities of all the pupils in Fairhaven High School. The newspaper promotes education, circulates news, and offers entertainment. Through intelligent communication, "The Spray" has advanced closeness of school bonds and spirits. This is the second anniversary of "The Spray," and each department is proud of the improvements made over last year's editions. The staff of "The Spray" feels that its time is well spent in producing a creditable school journal.

Office Assistants

The office assistants are a group of girls who help Mrs. Martin and Mr. Bither in discharging their duties. They work during their study periods on a voluntary basis. Some of their jobs are taking calls, getting volunteers to work in the Guidance Office, making appointments, and typing.

The 1963 football team at FHS displayed their fine ability to play impressively, although they did not produce many victories. The highlight of the season was the 26-12 lacing of Vocational High School. Mike Henriques, captain of the squad, played several positions throughout the season as did several other players, each executing their duties well.

Fairhaven's new advisor, Coach Warren Griffin, was ably assisted by Coach Arieta, Coach Bellotti, and Coach Sequin. These men not only instructed their boys in the techniques of football, but also in good sportsmanship.

Basketball

Basketball has always been a favorite sport at Fairhaven High School, and one which has brought us much recognition. The 1963-1964 season, although not the most successful, did much to bolster Fairhaven's pride in its team.

The most significant win of the season was the FHS vs. Coyle game. The teamwork really paid-off that night; every basket counted, and the Blue Devil victory was not secured until the final buzzer sounded.

The 1963 baseball season saw Fairhaven outclassed in the Bristol County League. After two successful seasons, FHS finally lost its dynasty in baseball. Although the Blue Devils ended in the bottom half of the standings with a 5-13 record, they did display fine qualities of sportsmanship.

Track 1963

The FHS track team, under the experienced coaching of Hal Cornforth, had one of its most successful seasons in recent years. The team lost only two of its dual meets, and took second place in team scoring in the Bristol County League Meet which was held in Fall River.

In state competition Fairhaven faired excellently. At the St. John's Relay the team finished in Class B. A week later the boys emerged victors in the Belmont State Relays. The team, in Class D, took all but one relay event to far outdistance the second place finishers.

At the Class D Meet, Fairhaven had three "champs;" Steve Vining in the 440, John Wojcik in the 2-mile, and Allen Patenaude in the 880. The team finished third in Class D.

These three runners returned to Boston the following week and brought home a seventh place finish. The teams that competed were from the entire state. Fairhaven High School's finish was the best of any school in southern Massachusetts.

In the New England Meet held at Dartmouth College in Hanover, New Hampshire, Allen Patenaude finished third in the 880, and Steve Vining finished sixth in the 440.

John Wojcik on his way to a second place finish in the Grand State Meet.

Winter Track 1964

The winter track team under the direction of Coach Carter which competed in the Southeastern Massachusetts Winter Track League, did well this season. Although the team did not have a winning season, in dual meets, they finished third in the Class D Meet at Boston Garden and fourth in the League Meet. Allen Patenaude was the number one performer for the team. He compiled victories in the 600 at the Y.M.C.A. Meet, the 1000 at the Class D Meet and the League Meet, and a third place finish at the B.A.A. games. In the Class D Meet, John Wojcik won the 2-mile, while the relay team of Patasini, Mike Henriques, Joe Amaral, and Ronnie Howland finished second.

Tennis 1963

Our 1963 tennis squad was an improvement over that of the previous year. Under the excellent instruction of Coach Twarog, the team fought long and hard for the victories they well deserved. With captain Paul Souza at the helm, the squad ended a respectable season with a final league record of six wins and four losses. These scores placed the team second in the class standings.

Girls' Basketball

Fairhaven's Varsity distaff cagers did not have their most successful season, for the team was plagued by constant injuries and illnesses; but the girls did enjoy the game and developed new and useful basketball skills. The Junior Varsity squad had a good season with six wins and five losses.
